

TIDEWATER RENEWABLES LTD.

WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

Introduction

Tidewater Renewables Ltd. and its subsidiaries (the “Company”) are committed to the highest standards of openness, honesty and accountability. In line with that commitment, we expect employees and others that we deal with who have serious concerns about any aspect of the Company’s activities and operations to come forward and voice those concerns.

Employees are often the first to realize that there may be something seriously wrong within the Company. However, they may decide not to express their concerns because they feel that speaking up would be disloyal to their colleagues or to the Company. They may also fear recrimination, harassment or victimization. In these circumstances, they may feel it would be easier to ignore the concern rather than report what may just be a suspicion of wrong-doing.

This policy document makes it clear that employees can report wrong-doings or suspected wrong-doings without fear of victimization, subsequent discrimination or disadvantage. This Whistle Blower Policy is intended to encourage and enable employees to raise serious concerns within the Company rather than overlooking a problem or seeking a resolution of the problem outside the Company.

This Policy applies to all employees and those contractors working for the Company. It is also intended to provide a method for other stakeholders (suppliers, customers, shareholders etc.) to voice their concerns regarding the Company’s business conduct.

The Policy is also intended as a clear statement that if any wrongdoing by the Company or any of its employees or by any of its contractors or suppliers is identified and reported to the Company, it will be dealt with expeditiously and thoroughly investigated and remedied. The Company will further examine and implement the means of ensuring that such wrongdoing can be prevented in future.

A whistleblowing or reporting mechanism invites all employees and other stakeholders to act responsibly to uphold the reputation of their organization and maintain public confidence. Encouraging a culture of openness within the organization will also help this process. This Whistleblower Policy aims to ensure that serious concerns are properly raised and addressed within the Company.

Background

1. What is Whistleblowing?

Employees are usually the first to know when something is going seriously wrong. A culture of turning a "blind eye" to such problems means that the alarm is not sounded and those in charge do not get the chance to take action before real damage is done. Whistleblowing can therefore be described as giving information about potentially illegal and/or underhanded practices i.e. wrong doing.

2. What is wrong doing?

Wrong doing involves any unlawful, illegal or otherwise improper behaviour and can include:

- An unlawful act whether civil or criminal;
- Breach of or failure to implement or comply with any approved policy of the Company, including the internal financial controls approved by the Company;
- Knowingly breaching federal or provincial laws or regulations;
- Unprofessional conduct or conduct that is not consistent with recognized, established standards of practice;

- Questionable accounting or auditing practices;
- Dangerous practice likely to cause physical harm/damage to any person/property;
- Failure to rectify or take reasonable steps to report a matter likely to give rise to a significant and avoidable cost or loss to the Company;
- Abuse of power or authority for any unauthorized or ulterior purpose; and
- Unfair discrimination in the course of employment or provision of services.

This list is not definitive, but is intended to give an indication of the kind of conduct which might be considered as “wrong doing”.

3. Who is protected?

This Whistleblower Policy is set in the context of the regulatory provisions of the Canadian Securities Association (CSA) National Instrument 52-110 — Audit Committees. Any employee who makes a disclosure or raises a concern under this Policy will be protected if the employee:

- Discloses the information in good faith;
- Believes it to be substantially true;
- Does not act maliciously or make knowingly false allegations; and
- Does not seek any personal or financial gain.

4. Who should you contact?

- (a) Any one with a complaint or concern about the Company should try to contact their supervisor or manager responsible for the group which provides the relevant service. This depends however, on the seriousness and sensitivity of the issues involved and who is suspected of malpractice.
- (b) The Company has enrolled the services of DLA Piper (Canada) LLP to provide an anonymous reporting line. This number will allow anyone to contact the hotline with information regarding suspected wrong doing at 403-698-8711.

5. How the Company will respond

The Company will respond positively to your concerns. Where appropriate, the matters raised may:

- (a) Be investigated by management, the Board of Directors, internal audit (when implemented), or through the disciplinary process;
- (b) Be referred to the police;
- (c) Be referred to the external auditor or external legal counsel; and/or
- (d) Form the subject of an independent inquiry.

In order to protect individuals and those accused of misdeeds or possible malpractice, initial enquiries will be made to decide whether an investigation is appropriate and, if so, what form it should take. Some concerns may be resolved by agreed action without the need for investigation. If urgent action is required, this will be taken before any investigation is conducted.

Within ten (10) working days of a concern being raised, the responsible officer will write to you:

- (a) Acknowledging that the concern has been received;
- (b) Indicating how he/she proposes to deal with the matter;

- (c) Giving an estimate of how long it will take to provide a response;
- (d) Telling you whether any initial enquiries have been made; and
- (e) Telling you whether further investigations will take place and if not, why not.

The amount of contact between the officers considering the issues and you will depend on the nature of the matters raised, the potential difficulties involved and the clarity of the information provided. If necessary, the Company will seek further information from you.

The Company will take steps to minimize any difficulties which you may experience as a result of raising a concern. For instance, if you are required to give evidence in criminal or disciplinary proceedings, the Company will arrange for you to receive advice about the procedure.

The Company accepts that you need to be assured that the matter has been properly addressed. Thus, subject to legal constraints, we will inform you of the outcomes of any investigation.

Where the information is received by the Ethics Alert Hotline, the information will be examined and then forwarded to the Chair of the Audit Committee for further action as prescribed in this policy. The Third Party provider of this service will provide recommendations for action as well as details of the incident. The disclosure of the complainant's name will only be done with the permission of the complainant.

6. Time Frames

Concerns will be investigated as quickly as possible. It should be borne in mind that it may be necessary to refer a matter to an external agency and this may result in an extension of the investigative process. It should also be borne in mind that the seriousness and complexity of any complaint may have an impact on the time taken to investigate a matter. A designated person will indicate at the outset the anticipated time frame for investigating the complaint.

7. Prevention of recriminations, victimization or harassment

In no circumstances will there be any reprisals by the Company or any of its employees against any person who has in good faith made a complaint. "Reprisals" means termination, demotion, discipline or any other action with an adverse effect on such person. Nor shall any employee of the Company take any such actions with the aim of preventing any person from making a complaint. Engaging in any of the above conduct will result in discipline, up to and including termination of employment.

8. Confidentiality and Anonymity

Complaints may be made on an anonymous basis. Unless otherwise required by law and where the complainant requests such confidentiality, the Company will maintain the strict confidentiality of the subject of the complaint and the identity of the person making the complaint (if disclosed). Such information will only be made available to those individuals who need to know of the complaint, including any regulators and/or law enforcement individuals, as required, in order that the complaint be properly investigated and addressed. However, it must be appreciated that it will be easier to follow up and to verify complaints if the complainant is prepared to give his or her name.

9. False and Malicious Allegations

The Company is proud of its reputation of upholding the highest standards of honesty. It will therefore ensure that substantial and adequate resources are put into investigating any complaint which it receives. However, the Company will regard the making of any deliberately false or malicious allegations by any employee of the Company as a serious disciplinary offence which may result in disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal for cause.
